[1] In the final race of the Sprint world championship for amateurs the French Texier held the German Neumer, so that the British Bailey won the race. The German team management protested and wanted to withdraw its cyclists. The UCI did not revise the race but suspended Texier for three months. When wrong decisions were made again at the Sprint world championship for professionals, the two German associations VDR and DRB did not longer compete in the world championships. They also left the UCI. The German VDR organized an „Oberweltmeisterschaft" for professional sprinters on 18.09.1910 in Berlin-Steglitz instead: 1. DICKENTMAN Piet NED, 2. RYSER Fritz SUI, 3. THEILE Fritz GER

[2] The German associations VDR and DRB, which are no longer part of the UCI, organized their own world championship for the German cyclists and few foreign competitors in Dresden (amateurs 02.-03.09. and professionals 07.-10.09.):
Stayers -amateurs - 1. ARENS Heinrich GER, 2. WEIß Jean GER, 3. BECK Alfons POL
Sprint amateurs - 1. RODE Christel GER, 2. MÖDER Erich GER, 3. GESCHE Otto GER
Stayers professionals - 1. GÜNTHER Peter GER, 2. SCHEUERMANN Richard GER, 3. LINART Victor BEL
Sprint professionals - 1. MEYER Otto GER, 2. RÜTT Walter GER, 3. PETER Oscar GER

[3] Due to the beginning of World War I on 28.07., many drivers did not even arrive or left, so that only the Sprint world championship for amateurs was finished. The World championship was canceled after the second day (04.08.).

[4] Due to the continued rain, the final day with the decisions of the professionals could not be held. This day was made up in Paris on 17.09.

[5] On 29.08. the World championship was canceled due to the international situation. Until then, only the first two days of the competition (26.-27.08.) had taken place.

[17] In the first run, VAN VLIET Arie NED hindered his opponent SCHERENS Joseph "Jef" BEL, so that he fell and injured himself. The commissioners punished VAN VLIET with 1,000 lire and postponed the continuation to a later day of the week.
[18] In the first run SENFFTLEBEN crashed 160 m from the finish line due to machine damage and broke his collarbone. The final should be made up on 06.10., but due to the weather conditions it had to be moved again to Monday, 07.10. in the morning.

[63] Dusika was placed fourth behind Willy Frach GER in the final. On 19.12.1932, the UCI announced that Frach would be disqualified because he had previously acquired a professional cyclist's license and is therefore never again allowed to start in amateur competitions.

[64] Until 1914 the race was of 100 km, then 1 hour until 1971 and 50 km from 1972 onwards. Initially the pacemakers were multi-seated bicycles according to the respective state of the art (with 2, 4, or 6 seats; Also 8 seats were tested, however, these had problems with the tight curves of the racing tracks). Then for the first time in 1899 also motorized pacemakers were used (but only for the winners!). From 1900 only motorcycles with two men "crew" (the front man steered and served as a counterweight to the second one sitting very far upright, which offered optimal wind protection and operated the machine at the same time). Since 1908 only single-seated motorcycles were allowed.
