GENERAL COUNSELING

We offer a wide variety of counseling services to people of all ages with drug or alcohol, mental health, or upsetting life problems. These services can help with problems such as depression, family conflicts, anxiety, phobias, substance abuse, relationships, and adjustment to difficult life situations like grief and loss. Our experienced qualified staff are trained to deal with the most difficult problems with professionalism, sensitivity, and strict confidentiality.

CRISIS

No one plans for a crisis or emergency. They happen. We are here to help you. During regular office hours call or stop by and someone will help support you. If you require a mental health or chemical dependency screening, we will schedule one and make referrals to other community support agencies when needed. Call (509) 634-2610 or 1-800-573-9343 (Eastern WA only). A qualified therapist/counselor will assist you in accessing what services you need with caring concern.

PUBLIC SAFETY

AMBULANCE SERVICES (509) 258-4400

Ron Samuels – Director (509) 625-3512
rons@spokanetribe.com

The Ambulance Department provides the following on a regular basis

- Provide 24/7 coverage that consist of having at least a two-person crew being available for calls. This means that the EMTs hired as full-time employees, that there is a crew available to respond.
- To be able to respond to calls for added calls while the primary crew is busy on other calls.
- Patient Care and/or transport during times of crises. This may be from accidents, illnesses, assaults or whatever event that occurred that caused them or their friends or family to request services.
- Patient Care for "WALK-INS" when the patient come to the public safety building to either seek care or advise, the on-duty crew will assist them. A lot of these calls do not require transportation and could be simply changing a bandage, check a blood pressure, or simply provide them to access outside agencies to provide them with appropriate medical advice.
- Respond to patients' homes when they may need assistance with their home medical equipment, such as their home oxygen, their medic alert system, or other items that the department may have to assist them in a unique process.
- Provide Transportation from medical facilities in outlying health care facilities to the patient's home because they're unable to ride in a conventional means of transportation and the public transportation is unavailable. This may also occur when those patients are returning home under HOSPICE Care.
- Ambulance Crews have assisted families when dealing in End-of-Life Care situations by providing temporary use of equipment such as Pulse Oxygenation Devices, Thermometers, and other equipment that they may not have readily available when that patient has returned home from another healthcare facility.
- Crews have responded to assist individuals who have fallen and they simply cannot get back up, yet are not injured.

- Providing services at local events such as Annual Pow Wow, Poker Run, Fourth of July Fireworks events, horse races or other community events that may occur throughout the year.
- Have responded to many calls for assistance to both Stevens and Lincoln Counties for transport assistance because the local service is busy on other calls or responding to the calls when our services are closer.
- On rare occasion provide bandages or other first aid supplies because they couldn't get them at the store or clinic due to being closed.
- Have provided representation for many years to the Head Start program during their safety parade event generally held in early fall season.
- Program has assisted community residents during weather events, during fire events, during power outages and other wide spread emergencies. This assistance has included delivery of water, heaters, and fire logs to some when the power has been out to ensure they're warm. The individuals generally are those that don't get out of the home, have limited outside resources, have very limited communication equipment, etc...
- Crews in the past have prepared, served and in some cases delivered Holiday meals to the elders stuck in home or provided them a seat at the table at the public safety building for those that were less fortunate.
- Ambulance Crews have provided services during sporting events at the Wellpinit School, provided blood pressure stations during housing fairs, during community days (years past) or set up informational booths during career days at the High School, and even set up information booths at the Native American events that were conducted in Spokane County.
- Participated in water rescue/recovery events that ultimately ended up being tragic events.
- Provide CPR/First Aid training to the various Tribal Employees that require the training throughout their employment.

Spokane Tribal Police

Community policing is a law enforcement strategy that has been around since the early 80's in the United States. Most people in the public safety sector have likely heard this term before, but what does community policing really mean? Community Policing is generally defined as a law enforcement philosophy that allows officers to continuously operate in the same area in order to create a stronger bond with our members living and working in that area. This allows our Police Officers to engage with members and prevent crime from happening instead of responding to incidents after they occur. How is community policing different from traditional policing?

- Intended to prevent crime before it happens rather than responding to crime after it occurs
- Focuses on creating a safe social environment
- Engages our community members to determine which criminal activities they are most affected by, creating an accurate law enforcement priority list shaped by the people who live in the area
- Encourages the community to participate with law enforcement in order to keep their own neighborhood safe

In its simplest form, community policing creates a partnership between Tribal Police and our community. The more involved law enforcement is with the residents they are sworn to protect, the more residents can help law enforcement achieve their goals. What are the benefits of an effective community policing structure?

- Community members having a more favorable view of their local police department
- Improved trust between law enforcement and the community
- More accurate information from residents regarding criminal activity in their community
- Better understanding of the needs of our members and their expectations of the police

The Spokane Tribal Police Department is committed to keeping our community safe. Through better training, better technology, and focused commitment, we can provide more proactive protection to our members.

Taking care of our Elders, protecting our youth in the schools, and proactively targeting drugs is our primary objective for 2022.
Please help by doing your part to make our community and members safe by using our Drug Tip Line at 509-202-5541 "SEE SOMETHING , SAY SOMETHING"

Fuels Program (509) 626-4434

Vernon L. Stearns Jr. - Fuels Manager
verns@spokanetribe.com

Fighting tomorrow's wildland fires, today.

The Fuels Management program provides the planning, implementation, and monitoring of hazardous fuels reduction projects on the Spokane Indian Reservation (SIR). Projects incorporate fire and non-fire treatments, such as prescribed fire, pile burning, pre-commercial thinning, and forest/range land mowing. The overarching goal of Fuels Management is to mitigate wildland fire risk that will benefit the human and natural resources of the SIR.

Subcontracting non-fire project treatments, such as thinning and chipping, to the Tribal membership and local public will be the preferred alternative for utilization of project funds. Subcontracts will be awarded through a Forestry Work Contract and will adhere to the most current version of the SIR Forest Work Contract Policy and Procedures document. Providing Forestry Work Contracts to the local public will provide temporary economic and employment opportunities while meeting goals of wildland fire risk reduction of the Fuels Management program.

Tribal Fisheries & Hatchery

Dr. Brent Nichols, Division Director
Tim Peone, Hatchery Manager

Each year Spokane Tribal Fisheries partners with local organizations and schools in an effort to assist local educators with outreach materials and programs. One such program is through the Lake Roosevelt Forum which offers Student Discovery Week. This exciting event is an exceptional opportunity for middle school students and teachers to explore the ecological, social and economic complexities of Lake Roosevelt's watershed. Each Discovery Zone is staffed by local resource specialists, including biologists, geologists and foresters representing many different agencies.

Recently we began developing a Salmon in the Classroom project to assist Spokane Tribal students with understanding the cultural, historical and Ecological importance that Salmon has to the Spokane Tribe of Indians. The project will be ongoing when there is an interested sponsor at the school.

Student Internships are also available as each year the Spokane Tribal Fisheries department hosts several student interns who are in their Junior or Senior year of High school or recently started college. Typically, the student interns participate in the Spokane Tribal Program or are selected from external internship programs such as the American Fisheries Society Hutton Junior Fisheries Biologist Program. Students have the opportunity to work on several projects within the Spokane Tribal Fisheries program including Limnology, Lake Roosevelt Fisheries, and Sturgeon Recovery. Student Interns need to be able to provide their own transportation to mentor's office in Wellpinit, WA. Or Airway Heights, WA with each assignment involving extensive field work ranging from 7-10 hours per day. Through this program, students have the opportunity to engage with:

- Resident Fisheries: Conducting fish surveys throughout the mainstream Columbia River from Grand Coulee Dam to Evans Landing as well as the Spokane and Sanpoil Arms.

- Anadromous Fisheries: The program is preparing tribal waters for, and furthering policy towards, reintroducing anadromous species to the blocked are of the Columbia River upstream of Chief Joseph and Grand Coulee Dams.
- Limnology: Students will be assigned to work with a team of limnologists to conduct field work that will include evaluation of hydro-operation and hatchery effects on the lower tropic levels, water quality and other limnological parameters of Lake Roosevelt.
- White Sturgeon Recovery: Students will have the opportunity to work with an international team of sturgeon biologists to continue project sampling which includes sub-yearling (juvenile) assessment monitoring, adult stock assessment monitoring, and telemetry monitoring
- Northern Pike Suppression: Northern Pike is a voracious, non-native, invasive predator that disrupts native fish communities. Students will be assigned to work with a team of suppression biologist to conduct gill netting and electrofishing on lake Roosevelt that targets the selective removal of Northern Pike.

WIC

What is WIC?
WIC was established as a permanent program in 1974 to safeguard the health of low-income women, infants and children up to age 5 who are at nutritional risk. This mission is carried out by providing nutritious foods to supplement diets, nutrition education (including breastfeeding promotion and support), and referrals to health and other social services.

What food benefits do WIC participants receive?
The food provided through the WIC program are designed to supplement participants' diets with specific nutrients. WIC authorized foods include infant cereal, baby foods, iron-fortified adult cereal, fruits and vegetables, vitamin C-rich fruit or vegetable juice, eggs, milk, cheese, yogurt, soy-based beverages, tofu, peanut butter, dried and canned beans/peas, canned fish, whole wheat bread and other whole-grain options. For infants of women who do not fully breastfeed, WIC provides iron-fortified infant formula. Special infant formulas and medical foods may also be provided if medically indicated.

Program benefits include more than food
WIC benefits are not limited only to food. Participants have access to a number of resources, including health screening, nutrition and breastfeeding counseling, immunization screening and referral, substance abuse referral, and more.

How WIC helps
WIC supplemental foods have shown to provide wide ranging benefits. They include longer, safer pregnancies, with fewer premature births and infant deaths; improved dietary outcomes for infants and children; improved maternal health; and improved performance at school, among others. In addition to health benefits, WIC participants showed significant savings in healthcare costs when compared to non-participants.

EBT makes it easier to use food benefits
In most WIC state agencies, participants receive paper checks or vouchers to purchase food, while a few distribute food through a centralized warehouse or deliver the foods to the participants' homes. However, all WIC State agencies have been mandated to implement WIC electronic benefit transfer (EBT) statewide by October 1, 2020. EBT uses a magnetic stripe or smart card, similar to a credit card, that participants used in the check-out lane to redeem their food benefits. EBT provides a safer, easier, and more efficient grocery experience and provides greater flexibility in the way WIC participants can shop.

WIC Facts

- If you participate in another assistance program you may be automatically income-eligible for WIC.
- Breastfeeding mothers are eligible to participate in WIC longer than non-breastfeeding mothers.
- More than half of the infants in the U.S. participate in WIC.
- WIC participants support the local economy through their purchases.
- WIC works with farmers markets to help increase participant access to provide fresh, locally grown fruits and vegetables.

Tshimakain Creek (T-Creek) Research and Development (R&D) is a clinical laboratory 100% owned and operated by the Spokane Tribe of Indians in Wellpinit, Washington.

As a research and diagnostic facility, T-Creek R&D is dedicated to the health and wellness issues disproportionately affecting the Native American community, as well as major health risks for the overall population. These include cardiovascular disease, diabetes, and drug dependency, among others.

As a tribally owned facility, our goal is to go beyond the diagnosis and help create sustainable lifestyle changes, leading to long and healthy lives for our families. Our reach is nationwide, and with your support, these health disparities will become a thing of the past.

Corporate Wellness
T-Creek R&D offers full service corporate wellness program support to corporations employing American Indian citizens.

Depending on the location, T-Creek R&D partners with local clinics and other health providers to develop a comprehensive wellness program for all employees. We work with organizational leadership to ensure the entire workforce's needs are met while keep costs down and services relevant.

Substance Abuse
T-Creek R&D has relationships with various substance abuse treatment programs. We take the guess work out of choosing a culturally respectful treatment option through our vetting services.

The needs of the Native American patient are sometimes unique to their culture; T-Creek R&D works to ensure their treatment plan is one that will work for their culture, their lifestyle, and their future.

Tribal Events
T-Creek R&D is happy to partner with scheduled wellness events or provide a singularly focused wellness event.

Event options include education on health and wellness topics, such as heart health, diabetes control, and other issues common in the population, as well as providing onsite blood testing. When testing is provided, T-Creek handles all logistics, test result communications, and follow-up with the patient's primary care doctor to ensure a wellness plan is created to address any abnormal results.

TAKE CHARGE OF YOUR HEALTH

Wellpinit School District
Empowering Our Students Thru Education

The Wellpinit School District is a K-12 public school system centrally located on the Spokane Indian Reservation. We work respectfully and collaboratively with parents, families, and community to empower our students through education, in a safe, caring and culturally responsive environment, inspiring students to master intellectual, social, physical and emotional skills needed for success.

Wellpinit School District Vision

Our mission is to provide a safe learning environment where student voice is valued. Each student is confident and empowered to be creative, knowledge seeking, thoughtful, and active members of their school, community and beyond.

Wellpinit Schools

The Wellpinit School District is a rural K-12, public school district centered on the Spokane Indian Reservation in Eastern Washington. It is located in southwest Stevens County, approximately 45 miles from Spokane. We serve approximately 600 students in grades K-12. Wellpinit School District was chartered as a state and county school in 1913 and a large public school was built in 1938. The present school facility was built in 1987 with the current Elementary school grades located in the old school building that was renovated in 2003. In addition, the District serves students beyond the reservation boundaries through the Alliance Education Program. The Wellpinit School District has a staff of approximately 100 personnel.

Our local student population is approximately 95% Native American or descendent. The students residing in the district are primarily from the Spokane Tribe of Indians; in addition we also have students from the Colville Confederated Tribes, Nez Perce, Coeur d' Alene, Kalispell and other Tribes.

The district's recently remodeled building houses the Middle School (grades 6-8) and high school (grades 9-12). The elementary school is housed in a nicely remodeled building about a half mile from the middle school and high school building. The district also has a building that houses the district office. In addition, the district has an Open Doors Reengagement Program offering a high school diploma or GED. Reengagement Programs are located in Wellpinit, at Fort Simcoe Job Corps, and Moses Lake Columbia Job Corps. The district has a broad range of programs to serve the needs of its diverse student population.
